MINISTRY OF EDUCATION AND TRAINING MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
HANOI LAW UNIVERSITY

INFORMATION PAGE ON NEW POINTS OF THE DOCTORAL THESIS

Thesis title: Applying customs in social management of the State in Vietnam today
Major: Theory and History of the State and Law
Code: 9380106
PHD Student: Dinh Thi Tam
Science instructor: Assoc. Prof. PhD Le Vuong Long
Training institution: Hanoi Law University

THE THESIS HAS NEW CONTRIBUTIONS AS FOLLOWS:

Firstly, the thesis clarifies the concept of custom and the application of customs in the social management of the State under the perspective of general theory of the state and law,| points out the most typical features of these concepts.

Secondly, the thesis explains the need to apply customs, factors affecting the application of customs in the social management of the State in Vietnam today.

Thirdly, the thesis mentions and clarifies the most basic theoretical issues on the application of customs in the social management of the State such as: determining the criteria for choosing the applied customs; determining the scope, cases and principles of application of customs; develop the process of applying customs in the social management of the State.

Fourth, through the practical study of the application of customs in social management of the State in a specific field, the thesis deepens theoretical knowledge about the role and value of customs in social management, thereby deepening theoretical knowledge about the role and value of customs in social management, correctly determine the role and position of customs in the social management of the State in Vietnam today.

Fifth, the assessment of the thesis on legal regulations helps legislators and researchers clearly see the loopholes in the current legal regulations on the application of customa in the social management of the State. At the same time, the solutions proposed by the thesis will contribute to improve the legal provisions on the application of customs in the State's social management in particular and improve the effectiveness of the application of customs in the State's social management in general.

Science instructor	PHD student
Assoc. Prof. PhD Le Vuong Long	Dinh Thi Tam