SUMMARY OF NEW RESEARCH FINDINGS

This is the first law doctoral dissertation on the topic of "The law on labour dispatch in Viet Nam: Theoretical and practical issues" and it has brought the following contributions to knowledge:

Firstly, the dissertation has analyzed and clarified more deeply on the theoretical issues about the labour dispatch (such as the concepts, the nature and characteristics of the labour dispatch), the law on labour dispatch (such as the concepts, characteristics, contents of the law on labour dispatch). On the basis of the overall assessment and inheritance of the results of scientific researches, the dissertation has not only developed more systematically and deeply to richer the specialized theory of the law on labour dispatch, but also overcomed a multifaceted in issues, that have been "dissected" and commented in the previous researches published. It can be confirmed that this is the first dissertation which has analyzed systematically, comprehensively and thoroughly about the theoretical basis of the labour dispatch and the law on labour dispatch.

Secondly, the dissertation has fully solved the current legal status in Viet Nam on the labour dispatch and its practical application. The dissertation's contents have evaluated, commented and analyzed comprehensively the content of the Viet Nam's law on the labour dispatch in comparison with the law in several countries, in reference with actual implementation and the movement and development trend of the labour dispatch activities in Viet Nam. At the same time, the dissertation has evaluated very appropriately the current status of 6 legal contents on labour dispatch in Vietnam and clearly indicated the advantages and disadvantages of these contents compared to reality.

Thirdly, based on the results of the theoretical research as well as the assessment of the current situation of the law on labour dispatch and practical application, the dissertation has proposed 5 orientations and 7 recommendations. This is a useful reference in improving legal documents and enhancing effectively the implementation of legal documents in Viet Nam in the upcoming time.

The dissertation is an independent scientific work and has certain contributions to the development of the labour law science in general and the labour dispatch's law science in particular. It can be used for reference in many fields such as making policy, law enforcement, studying, scientific research and teaching./.
